ORDER

PITMAN, United States Magistrate Judge:

Plaintiff's application for an extension of time to complete discovery is granted. Judge Marrero originally provided that plaintiff would have approximately six weeks after intervenor GSHL finished document production to complete discovery. It is unfair to cut plaintiff's discovery period short solely because GSHL has been sluggish in producing its documents and doing so would effectively create a right on GSHL's part to alter unilaterally the schedule contemplated by Judge Marrero.

Accordingly, the deadline to complete discovery is extended to six weeks from the completion of GSHL's document production.

Apart from the scheduling issue resolved by this Order, I do not understand plaintiff and GSHL to have any other discovery issues that are ripe for resolution at this time. Should any other issues exist, counsel are directed to fax my chambers promptly with a description of the issue and counsel's arguments concerning the issue.
